FOREWORD

A catalogue of this kind has long been needed by the Catholics of Washington. In many other places similar lists of readable books have been compiled for Catholic patrons of the public libraries. This compilation should meet with a welcome in Catholic schools and homes.

The editors of this catalogue have not confined their recommendation to books by Catholic authors, but have endeavored to place in the hands of Catholic patrons of our Public Library a liberal list of books which may be read without danger, in accordance with the high standard of morality inculcated by their Church. In making this list of books, the editors have consulted those who may be regarded as authorities in their special branches of learning. They do not, however, pretend to speak with authority either in the selection or the rejection of books for this catalogue. They are to be highly commended for the painstaking labor they have expended on the work and the creditable manner in which it has been done.

It is proposed to distribute these catalogues through the schools of the District. Though the expense has been large, it is hoped that the good to be accomplished will amply compensate for the labor and the cost.

The Catholic public may feel assured that every courtesy will be accorded them by the Chief Librarian, Doctor George F. Bowerman, who has already given special facilities to the schools to obtain books which are required for their pupils.

WM. T. RUSSELL.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

The two editions of this catalogue have been compiled and seen through the press by Miss JULIA HARDEY LASKEY, head cataloger of the Public Library. The library has had no definite part, officially, in the enterprise. None the less, from the start I urged its doing as a desirable thing and have had satisfaction in the fact that two editions have been required to meet demands. From the point of view of the Public Library, it is highly desirable to have Catholic readers know that the library contains a considerable body of literature that is approved for general reading by their own spiritual teachers.

As librarian I wish to utilize this opportunity to assure the Catholic clergy and laity of the desire of the management of the library to provide as comprehensive a collection as possible of books and magazines that will appeal to Catholic readers.

A public library, of course, has very distinct limitations. The first and most insistent of these is the smallness of funds, compelling rigid selection in purchases and the necessity for meeting the most urgent demands. Another limitation is the fact that a public library is impersonal and therefore has no opinions, certainly no disputable religious opinions.

The Public Library already numbers among its constant readers a large number of the Catholic clergy and laity. The publication of two editions of this list indicates that this number is constantly increasing. I desire to extend a cordial invitation to all Catholics of Washington not only to use the present resources of the library, but also to recommend for purchase other books not now in the library that might appropriately be found here. Within the limits of our funds, all such requests will have hospitable consideration.

GEORGE F. BOWERMAN,

Chief Librarian.

INTRODUCTION

The object of this Catalogue is to afford the Catholics of Washington a means of becoming better acquainted with the Catholic literature to be found in the Public Library of the District of Columbia.

It comprises about 2,000 works (in English) by Catholic and other select authors. The library numbers are added to facilitate drawing books from the library.

The compiler is under great obligations to the Catholic Writers' Guild for aid received from their Catholic Reading List of the Chicago Public Library, and has followed the admirable subject arrangement of that catalogue in the present list. Acknowledgment is also made of assistance obtained from the Catholic Who's Who, the Catholic World, America and the Catholic Encyclopedia. Grateful recognition of valuable advice and assistance is tendered Reverend H. J. SHANDELLE, S. J., Librarian of Georgetown University, and Rt. Reverend Monsignor WILLIAM T. RUSSELL, D.D. Thanks are extended also to the Chief Librarian, the Assistant Librarian, and members of the staff of the Public Library for their kind and helpful interest, and to Miss PAULINE WILCOX for her co-operation in preparing the Catalogue.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING THE LIBRARY.

All persons who are permanent or temporary residents of the District of Columbia are entitled to draw books from the library. Those whose names appear in the District Directory, telephone book, etc., may obtain readers' cards upon their first visit to the library. Books may be retained two weeks, with privilege of renewal (except those labeled "Seven-day Book"). A charge of two cents a day is made for each book retained beyond the specified period.
